The IOC Advisory Committee on Human Rights held its session on 22 November 2023 in virtual format.

The Committee members received updates and discussed the following topics:

- Amendments to the Olympic Charter

The Committee members acknowledged the opportunity provided to present their work at the IOC Session in Mumbai and welcomed the adopted modifications which anchor internationally recognised human rights in the Fundamental Principles of Olympism.

- Freedom of religion in the context of the Olympic Games Paris 2024

The Committee received updates on and discussed the situation of freedom of religion in sport in the Olympic Movement, as well as the recent developments in the context of the Olympic Games Paris 2024.

- IOC Framework on Fairness, Inclusion and Non-Discrimination on the basis of gender identity and sex variations

The Committee discussed the efforts deployed by the IOC to engage IFs on the topics. The Committee discussed the challenges faced by the Olympic Movement on this complex and sensitive topic.

- Safe Sport

The Committee welcomed the recent developments to strengthen safeguarding measures for athletes through the establishment of regional hubs and the development of an International Safe Sport Framework.

- The rights of child athletes

The Committee was updated on the project ambition, namely to draft a Framework for respecting the rights of elite child athletes, and its design approach, which will build on extensive consultations with athletes, their entourages, IFs and NOCs, the broader Olympic Movement and other international experts.

For more information about the IOC Advisory Committee on Human Rights and its members, click here.