

Winter Youth Olympic Games Gangwon 2024 Qualification System Principles

INTRODUCTION

In order to participate in the Winter Youth Olympic Games Gangwon 2024 (hereafter the “YOG”), athletes and teams will have to respect and comply with the Olympic Charter as well as with the rules of the relevant International Federation (IF). The IOC Executive Board reserves the right to revoke the YOG Qualification status of a qualification event, including without limitation in case any of the below principles have not been met or the Olympic Charter has not been adhered to. The IOC Executive Board may delegate any of its powers related to the qualification systems, including without limitation its approval authority, to the IOC administration.

The Winter Youth Olympic Games Gangwon 2024 Qualification System Principles (“QSP”) are created to give guidance to the International Olympic Winter Federations (“IF(s)”) to establish the Qualification Systems for their respective sports (and disciplines, where applicable).

Qualification Systems are the regulations established by IFs that consist of rules, procedures and criteria for participation in competitions of the YOG, subject to final selection by each National Olympic Committee (“NOC”) upon recommendation of the respective National Federation (“NF”). These Qualification Systems must conform to the QSP set forth below (as approved by the IOC Executive Board (“EB”) in September 2022).

The application of the qualification criteria lies with the IFs, their affiliated NFs and the NOCs in the fields of their respective responsibilities. The NOCs have the exclusive authority for the representation of their respective countries at the YOG.

Qualification Systems vary between each sport (and discipline, where applicable). They are established to give the best young athletes in the world a fair and equitable opportunity to participate in the YOG and strictly define and limit the number of athletes for each sport/discipline/event on the programme, as approved by the IOC EB on 24 February 2021.

1. CONTENT

All relevant information related to the qualification process for the YOG should be included in each Qualification System. References to criteria, rules and regulations published in external IF documentation should be kept to a minimum and should include a precise link to access each concerned document on an IF’s website.

The Qualification System in each sport should be easy to access and to comprehend for NOCs, NFs and athletes and should leave no room for individual interpretation.

2. SELECTION OF ATHLETES

Qualification Systems must allow for the participation of the best athletes through a fair and transparent process within the framework of the Rules of each IF concerned to maximise the opportunity for continental representation at the YOG.

Each qualification system must ensure that the overall athlete quota places approved by the IOC EB shall not be exceeded.

3. ELIGIBILITY

All athletes participating in the YOG must be 15, 16, 17 or 18 years old on 31 December in the year of the YOG (born between 1 January 2006 and 31 December 2009).

Each IF will propose to the IOC for approval a specific age group classification for its sport, disciplines or events. In principle, these age groups will have to respect the athlete's age participation eligibility and could be a one, two, three or four-year age bracket, e.g. 15, 15/16, 15/16/17, or 15/16/17/18.

Only those athletes who respect and comply with the Olympic Charter, the World Anti-Doping Code and the Olympic Movement Code on the Prevention of the Manipulation of Competitions, including the conditions of participation established by the IOC, as well as with the rules of the respective IF under which sport they are competing, may participate in the YOG.

4. HOST COUNTRY PLACES

In principle, all sports/disciplines should include quota places for the Host Country's participants. However, these are not automatic in view of safety requirements and should be dealt with specifically in each Qualification System, subject to attainment of a minimum level of performance by athletes or teams. If there is an exceptional reason that there is no provision for Host Country's places within a given sport, this should be stated in the Qualification System to avoid any doubt.

The Qualification Systems should include the timeline for confirmation/rejection of Host Country's places, and the process for the reallocation of unused Host Country's places.

5. QUALIFICATION PERIOD

Unless otherwise approved by the IOC following a reasoned request by the relevant IF, the qualification period should cover a maximum of twenty-four (24) months, and shall conclude at least seven (7) days prior to the YOG's entry by name deadline.

6. PERFORMANCE AND QUALIFICATION EVENTS

Unless otherwise approved by the IOC, athletes/teams shall have more than one (1) opportunity to qualify to the YOG (the "Qualification Event(s)"). However, the Qualification Systems should not necessitate extensive and expensive travel requirements. To the extent possible, continental events should be used to reduce athletes' participation costs.

In principle, existing events and/or rankings already approved by the respective IF should be used for the qualification to the YOG. Events that are identified as Qualification Events should be announced by the respective IFs before the start of the qualification period and defined in the Qualification System accordingly even if the location has not been confirmed by that time.

For sports in which qualification is based on meeting specified minimum standards, the respective IFs shall specify the events in which such standards must be met and implement clear regulations regarding the verification and communication of the official results from these events.

7. NOC RESPONSIBILITIES

NOCs have the exclusive authority for the representation of their respective countries at the YOG and may decide not to accept an allocated quota place.

8. ENTRIES

All sports/disciplines will have a common closing date for NOCs to complete all entry formalities for their athlete / and team entries by name. This date will be specified by the IOC in coordination with the YOG Organising Committee ("YOGOC") and listed in the Qualification Systems.

9. ALLOCATION

Each qualification system shall include the qualification pathway, allocation process, reallocation process and timeline for qualification events.

The Qualification System should clearly indicate whether the allocation of places is either for specific athletes by name (nominal qualification) or at the NOC's selection (slot allocation). If places are allocated to NOCs, it should be clear whether NOCs have an open right of selection or if there are requirements for athletes to meet minimum eligibility standards. When relevant, the IF should ensure that the technical ability of each athlete is sufficient to ensure safe participation. If quota places are allocated to athletes by name, publication of the list of athletes who have obtained these nominal quota places shall include the provision that an athlete's participation in the YOG is subject to selection by their NOC.

In order to avoid unused quota places and to ensure fairness to all athletes and countries looking to participate in the Games, the Qualification System must include the process and timeline for NOC acceptance/rejection of quota places, as well as the process for reallocation of unused places. This shall be clearly defined in the Qualification Systems.

In principle, for specified qualification events taking place during the qualification period, the IFs should notify the NOCs within one (1) week of the date on which the quota place was earned according to the Qualification System. The acceptance/rejection of quota places by NOCs should be within two (2) weeks of the date on which the IF notifies the respective NOCs of the earned quota place. For Qualification Systems which conclude during the last two (2) weeks of the qualification period, or similarly for events taking place during the last two (2) weeks of the qualification period, IFs should notify the NOCs within twenty-four (24) hours of the date on which the quota place was earned according to the Qualification System, and the notification of acceptance/rejection of allocated quota places by NOCs shall also be limited to a maximum of twenty-four (24) hours from the date the IF notifies the respective NOCs of the earned quota place, in order to maximise the potential for reallocation of any unused quota places.

10. REALLOCATION

Reallocations should not be carried out beyond the reallocation deadline set out in the specific Qualification System, unless it would negatively impact the competition format (e.g. changes to the competition schedule, heats, phases, draw, etc.) as agreed by the IOC and the respective IF.

In exceptional circumstances, if the maximum athlete quota per IF is not allocated or reallocated by the time of the reallocation process, a supplementary reallocation may be suggested by the IF for the IOC and YOGOC review and approval. Such supplementary reallocation may be proposed with a view to maximize the participation of eligible athletes in the YOG while preserving the gender balance and universality participation.

11. TEAM QUALIFICATION

For events that are final team qualifying competitions, the Qualification System should clearly indicate whether NOCs/NFs are required to submit any form of preliminary documentation related to the acceptance of quota places (where applicable). Team sports at the YOG are defined as follows: Ice Hockey and Curling. This principle may also apply to team events in individual sports/disciplines.

12. ADHERENCE TO DEADLINES

Strict deadlines with regard to the determination and publication of allocated quota places by IFs as well as to the NOCs' acceptance/rejection of quota places must be applied.

13. CHANGE MANAGEMENT

The Qualification Systems for each sport, once agreed upon by the IOC and IFs, shall not be changed without the prior written agreement of the IOC EB and shall not be published in any other format without the IOC's prior written approval.

Any publication or information related to a Qualification System must be sent to NOCs and NFs concurrently by the IOC and the IF respectively. This includes, but is not limited to, advice regarding amendments to the Qualification System, publishing of qualification lists or requests for confirmation of the acceptance of quota places.

Any amendments or updates to the Qualification System for each sport/discipline will be logged and published in a separate document for reference and will be communicated to the NOCs immediately.

14. ISSUE RESOLUTION

Any dispute between an IF and a NOC in connection with the interpretation or execution of a Qualification System should be resolved through direct consultation between the IF and the NOC. Should such dispute not be resolved through the consultation, it shall be referred exclusively to the Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS) in Lausanne, Switzerland.

15. COMMUNICATION

When publishing the allocated quota places and the list of qualified athletes, IFs need to communicate directly with NOCs at the same time as with their respective NFs. This includes, but is not limited to, advice regarding amendments to the Qualification System, publishing of qualification lists or requests for confirmation of the acceptance of quota places. The YOGOC Sport Entries team shall be informed of all quota places allocated to the NOCs.
